LEGISLATIVE COUNCIL

'81 CODE ON
BEST SELLER
LIST

The Legislative Council at its February 22 meeting approved the printing of 400 additional sets of the 1981 Montana Code. The Council has received almost 300 new orders in the first two months of 1982. These orders, together with a heavier than anticipated demand in 1981, make the the new printing necessary lest the MCA be out of print over a year before a new edition appears.

COUNCIL CONSIDERS A VARIETY OF
ISSUES ON FEBRUARY 22

In other business, the Council:
--decided to maintain its current policy of keeping tapes of interim committees until the end of an interim study and then reusing the tapes;
--agreed to consider a bill providing for review of proposed initiatives prior to submission to the Secretary of State rather than following submission as is now the case;
--received a report explaining an IRS letter opinion concerning legislator deductions for expenses (a copy of this letter explaining aspects of the recently revised Federal law is available from the Council);
--directed the staff to report to the Judiciary Committees prior to each session concerning changes in the law recommended by the Supreme Court in its opinions; and
--adopted a rule allowing Council staff to provide technical assistance to legislators in any stage of rulemaking by the executive (staff may not represent a legislator in that process).

COUNCIL URGES
FRUGAL TRAVEL

The Council urges legislators intending to travel out of state to procure their airline tickets at the lowest possible rate. Fares may be reduced by purchasing tickets early, through alternate routings, or through the use of senior citizen discounts. Work with your travel agent to secure the lowest possible fare that meets your travel needs. Using the lowest fare will help stretch the limited travel budgets. Some examples of savings may be seen in the following chart showing the costs between Helena and several destinations using excursion fares.

Destination	Regular Fare	Excursion
San Francisco	$474	$304
Denver	362	271
D.C.	764	535
Minneapolis	450	360
N.Y.C.	796	557
Seattle	310	201

The Council has also asked that legislators try to find alternate hotel accommodations when the price of a recommended "headquarters hotel" is in excess of $50 a night in some of the "high cost" cities. Adequate lower cost rooms often are available near by.

FIVE-STATE WATER TASK FORCE

The Legislative Council appointed Representatives Robert Sivertsen and Rex Manuel to a five-state task force on Water Resources Information Exchange originally requested by Resolutions of the Five-State Conference adopted in September 1981.

DISTRICTING AND APPORTIONMENT

CONRAD HEARING TESTS WATER

As this issue of The Interim goes to press, the Districting and Apportionment Commission is preparing for its first public hearing on Friday, February 26, in Conrad. The Commission expects a large turnout for the hearing which will air alternative redistricting plans for the Pondera, Teton, Toole, Liberty, Hill, and Chouteau County area. As with other hearings to be held later, the purpose of this hearing is to allow local people to participate in the process and relate their desires to the Commissioners. Final decisions will be made later when the Commissioners can assess the results of their work on a statewide basis.

EXTENSIVE PUBLICITY EFFORT

The extensive publicity for the hearing has included notification through local newspapers, political party organizations, and incumbent legislators in the area. Similar procedures will be used to announce other hearings to be held throughout the state later this spring and summer. Suggestions for additional techniques would be welcomed.
